

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE

MENDON MATTERS

Mendon, April 16.—Mrs. Oldham of Burley, Idaho, is visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Whitney. The home of Mr. and Mrs. David Buist was made happy over the arrival of a sweet little girl Monday.

Mrs. Agnes Buist has returned home from Ogden where she was called to the bedside of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Henry Buist.

Mrs. Jos Sorensen and daughter Echo of Raft river, are visiting with relatives and friends this week.

The Mendon ward conference was held Sunday, April 16, two sessions were held, the first beginning at 10 a. m. and the second at 2 p. m. Elders William Maughan of the stake presidency and William Darley of Wellsville, were present. During the afternoon session, the most of the time was used in hearing reports from the bishop and the presidents of the various organizations, the reports showed the ward to be in a good condition both financially and spiritual.

Miss Myrtle Baker is suffering with a bad case of quinsy.

Lawrence Bailey of Logan, was a Mendon visitor Sunday.

Mr. Gwyn Smith of Logan and Miss Eva Bartlett were married in Logan Tuesday, April 11. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Logan.

The smiling faces of the Jos. Watkins family are seen on the streets again after being quarantined five weeks with small pox. Edward Watkins contracted the disease while attending school at the B. Y. College, Logan.

But Marts of Trade.

Cities are not the producers of wealth. They are but the marts or trading places for the products of the wealth of the earth and of labor, and for the distribution of commerce. They are not the places for homes, for they have to be continually giving way to the growth and demands for trade.

No Use Worrying.

There's two things that are no use worrying about, just two. One of 'em is the thing that a body can't help. 'Tother is the thing that a body can help.—"Aunt Huldah," by G. M. Cooke and A. Macgowan.

HYRUM NOTES

Hyrum, April 14.—The second ward people of Hyrum met together in their meeting house to show their last respects to Elder Edwin Clawson before he departs for Great Britain, to labor in the interests of the Mormon church as a servant of God to promulgate the everlasting gospel.

Elder Clawson spoke a short time. He deemed it an honor to be counted worthy of being sent into the world as a representative of such a great and noble cause. Yet he felt his inability in being called upon to preach the gospel. "Many are called, but few are chosen," was the conclusion of his remarks. He will depart next Monday for England. We wish Brother Clawson a successful journey.

Miss Belle McIntosh of Baltimore, Md., is spending a few days in Hyrum. Miss McIntosh embraced the gospel Jan. 16, 1908, and since has been a faithful worker and has been successful in carrying the gospel to many of her friends in Baltimore where the Elders would not have been received. Miss McIntosh will return to Salt Lake Monday where she expects to make her future home.

Saturday, April 15, the Hyrum baseball team will play a game with Providence. Our boys are in good trim and we expect to witness a good game Saturday.

Mr. Joseph Neilson, son of Bent Neilson, returned from the southern states where he has been laboring for the past two years as a missionary.

Many of our Hyrum boys have left for the mountains to shear sheep.

Our water ditch bunch is hard at work digging up mother earth so as to get sufficient water into our fields this summer.

No Fool.

Dan simply stood still and watched the rabbit disappear over the hill, and his partner wanted to know why he didn't shoot. After a moment's silence, he answered, through his nose: "Did you take me for a fool? Do you think I was going to strain my gun shooting up hill?"

Truest Friendship.

There are times when the truest friendship is just to stand on one side, and ask no questions.—"Captain Desmond, V. C.," by Maud Diver.

BEHAVIOR.

You cannot rightly train one to an air and manner except by making him the kind of man of whom that air is the natural expression. Nature forever puts a premium on reality. What is done for effect is seen to be done for effect; what is done for love is felt to be done for love. A man inspires affection and honor because he was not lying in wait for these. The things of a man for which we visit him were done in the dark and the cold.—Emerson.

SHE GOT CHRISTMAS MONEY

How Bill's Poor Wife Caught Him in a Saloon and Obtained a Generous Contribution.

Now, this is a true story. Bill is known everywhere as a "good fellow." He has his faults, but his heart is in the right place—that's what everybody says. Nobody ever came to him for help and got turned down. He had a family; none of our crowd had ever seen his family, but we knew he must be good to them, even though he never did appear to go home.

One evening five or six good fellows were sitting in the back room of a downtown saloon, and Bill was telling a story. A woman entered. She had a dark shawl over her head and we couldn't see her face, but she came directly to our table. "Gentlemen," she said, "Christmas is coming, and I have nothing for the little ones. Can you help?"

Of course it was Bill who responded first. He jumped up and plunged his hand into his pocket. We could hear the rustle of bills, and we knew that something more than mere silver had found its way into the trembling hand. Bill was blushing when he came back to us. We were ashamed into offering something, but he would have none of it. He seemed confused—a little ashamed of his charity—but he wouldn't let us help. And it was just like Bill to change the subject and go right on with his story.

And the woman? Oh, that was Bill's wife. We found out later that that was about the only way she could ever get any money out of him.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not an Inviting Ideal.

"My son," said Harker as he pointed to the ivy in front of the cottage, "always be like the vine—climb." The little boy was thoughtful. "I don't think I'd like to be like that vine," he responded seriously. "And why not, Tommy?" "Cause if I was I'd be a porch climber."—Chicago News.

Trimming Him Down a Little.

Elderly Swell—What has become of the aw—the other pretty manicure lady I used to see at this hotel? Comely Damsel—I presume you mean my mother. She's looking after a husband and a houseful of children. What can I do for you, sir?—Chicago Tribune.

Breaking It Gently.

Servant—You got cheated when you bought a china vase, mum. Mistress—How cheated? Servant—Why, it's weak. It busted all to smash the first time I dropped it.—Toledo Blade.

A Good Joke.

"What is a good joke?" "Any joke you have read that makes you sore because you didn't think of it yourself."—Exchange.

Good actions ennoble us, and we are the sons of our own deeds.—Cervantes.

A Warning.

"You want more money? Why, my boy, I worked three years for $11 a month right in this establishment, and now I'm owner of it." "Well, you see what happened to your boss. No man who treats his help that way can hang on to his business."

Without False Start.

No man can be happy or successful or of use to others unless he does what he is best fitted to do. Instinct will tell him what that is. It is for him to think long and seriously before he begins his life work, and then begin it without any false starts.

Wanted the Hired Man.

"Are you the owner of this place?" asked the book agent. "I am," replied Farmer Cornsmeal. "Anything I can do for you?" "No. The chances are that you are too hard-worked to have time to read anything, and that you haven't any spare change, anyhow. Let me talk to the hired man."

Stops earache in two minutes; tooth ache or pain of burn or scald in five minutes; hoarseness, one hour, muscleache two hours; sore throat twelve hours.—Dr. Thomas Electric Oil, monarch over pain.

THE END OF TUBERCULOSIS

Care For Hopeless Cases.

By S. ADOLPHUS KNOPE, M. D.

The criticism has been made, and I have heard it even from medical men, that it was a waste of money to bother with the hopelessly ill; that institutional treatment should be reserved for the curably affected who could again be made breadwinners and useful citizens. Those who made these criticisms are not even right from the utilitarian point of view, much less from the humanitarian aspect of the problem. One who has had any experience at all with tuberculosis as a physician or as a social worker will know that the consumptive, no matter in what stage of the disease, if he is untrained and uncared for, constitutes a great menace in his workshop and in his home. It must be evident that if the patient is confined all the time to his bed the danger of his constituting a center of infection in a crowded bedroom, often without light and air, is very great. Such a patient, because he is not taken care of at the right time and in the right place, costs a good deal more in the end, and not infrequently additional lives are sacrificed through his condition and environments. This is my answer from the utilitarian point of view to the statement that it is a useless expenditure to take care of the seemingly hopeless cases.

Walking and Balancing.

It is pointed out that in walking or running the arms and legs produce a "balancing" like that of the reciprocating and revolving parts of a locomotive. The movements of the legs react upon the trunk and tend to rotate it in alternate directions about a vertical axis. But the swinging of the arms, each in unison with the opposite leg, produces an opposing mechanical couple, the effect of which is to rotate the trunk in the other direction, thus balancing, in part at least, the rotating action of the legs.

The Lion's Share.

It is really not the male lion, with his terrific roar and formidable appearance, that the explorer fears, but his mate. The male lion is a good looking power, but when it comes to business it is his wife who counts, a la the African native. Game is pulled down by the female lion, and then the male beats her off until he has feasted to repletion, when she may have what is left: hence "the lion's share."

Tea Seeds.

Tea seeds resemble hazelnuts. They are sown in beds to grow thickly together like cabbage.

Norway Fishermen.

Norwegians do not favor whale hunting because they believe that whales drive the fish shoreward.

A Maine Record.

"I think I can safely lay claim to having hauled more wood into Rockland than any other man," says Otis Tolman of Rockville. "I have been at it sixty years, hauling an average of 200 loads a year with an average of seven feet to the load. I brought my first load into town behind a pair of steers in 1850 and sold it to the late S. H. Burpee for two dollars a cord."—Kennebec Journal.

Provisional.

Teacher—Now, I have explained what "provisional" means, and I want some of you to give me an illustration.

Bright Boy—Please, ma'am, I can. "Very well. What is it?" "The holes in a porous plaster." "Hum! Why?" "When yeh pull th' plaster off th' holes don't hurt."

THE HALL OF FAME.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON.

First secretary of the treasury and Federalist leader.

Born Island of Nevis, West Indies, Jan. 11, 1757; died New York July 12, 1804. Description of a West Indian hurricane attracted favorable notice and obtained him education in New York. Pamphlets against the British made him a figure among the patriots. Was a member of Washington's staff in the Revolution; also participated in the capture of Yorktown. Wrote most of the Federalist papers and led for a strong central government in the constitutional convention. Washington's first secretary of the treasury, in which position he exhibited genius in organizing the nation's finances. Started the protective tariff system. Blocked Aaron Burr's plans and was killed by Burr in a duel.

One Conductor Helped Back to Work

Mr. Wilford Adam is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect, and the third bottle put me on my feet." It clears the blood of uric acid.

On Probation.

"Ferdie wants to marry me, father." "Ferdie doesn't know his own mind." "Oh, father, give him a chance." "Well, I'll put him on probation. If he sticks to one brand of cigarettes for the next six months, I'll admit that he is getting steadier."
